ShakeSpeare™ Inbox e-mail

ShakeSpeare™ Inbox e-mail module can check your e-mail account instead of you and immediately import each incoming message into your digital mailroom. From there to the e-mail processing in your document management system, you are just a step away.

No need to worry and to regularly check all of your electronic mailboxes. Have just one central digital mailroom, which takes care of all your mailboxes. Even more, messages from mailboxes, which are intended for a specific project, can be automatically pre-assigned to the project and to the responsible for the project. So you save a valuable time to your administration, which can be now usefully applied otherwise.

With ShakeSpeare™ Inbox e-mail module the mail is in your mailroom just a few moments after the sender has sent it and is captured in the advanced format that is friendly to your favorite email client Microsoft Outlook. You can reply or forward it in the same manner you do with the rest of your e-mails which you do business with. In the same time it is safely stored and archived by all standards regarding your archive material.
